An Easy Way to Build Queries

Query Builder

Query Builder

The Builder Tool provides a way to create queries without having more than a basic knowledge of Boolean Logic. This enables the creation of queries simply by adding the query text, selecting an operand, and using parentheses. Combine this with other selected global information and the creation of a query is quick and straightforward.

Users may also set proximity (Search Within) and order, and limit the query to a specific date range. Information that is more specific can be entered to further expand or restrict the results returned by the query.
