

Jeaneen Searles

Proposal Director

Business Operations

Jeaneen Searles is a proposal director within SAIC's Business Operations.

Searles joined SAIC in 2020 as the director of Proposal Operations where she leads three areas: proposal production, editing, and graphics. Additionally, her team manages the Virtual Proposal Center (VPC), Vendor and Demand Management, and Requirements Driven Outlines (RDOs).

Throughout her career, Searles has held numerous positions of increasing responsibility, leading teams focused on proposal development. She has more than 20 years of experience across the proposal development life cycle, specializing in compliance and coordination.

Early in her career, Searles worked as a proposal analyst, becoming familiar with the overall proposal process. She moved into coordination and later led proposal efforts in excess of $900 million.

Searles attended the University of Maryland University College and is a member of the Association of Proposal Management Professionals (APMP) and Women in Technology (WIT).
